- a) Fear is universal in the sense that it can happen anywhere and anytime. It contains many universal aspects, the feeling of fear is universal in the sense that every human undergoes different kinds of fear. The boy's insistence on going home is another aspect in this story.
- b) Maugham travelled to Germany to study literature, philosophy and German language
- c) Critics said that he was more creative in medicine rather than in literature

This passage is taken from the Force of Circumstance by Maugham. The speaker is Guy. The listener is his son. Guy's wife decides to leave her husband after she discovered that her husband had a relationship with the Malay woman, having three children. After leaving him he began to cry, telling his son to tell his mother to return to the house. This is the nature of man. The main idea is hypocrisy.

This passage is taken from "The Withered Arm" by Thomas Hardy. There is a kind of conversation between Mr Lodge and his new wife, telling her that there is a boy, I want to bring him for you to make you happy but the boy disappeared and I don't know where. The main idea is love (3)
