

الفصل الثاني 2020-2019

I-(5) marks for each sentence.

1-This is an exception to the rule.

2-She studied hard all the summer, so she could succeed.

3-I am not satisfied with my marks.

4-I've gathered much information for my search.

5-If you sleep enough, you will be healthy.

6-Our health is affected by what we eat.

- The student should write the whole sentence after correction, otherwise his/her answer rates zero.
- Deduct one mark for any spelling or grammatical mistake in any sentence. (The total deduction should not exceed 3 marks if the sentence has been corrected well).

II-(4) marks for each couple.

1-I get up in the morning, (and/but) I can hardly move.

2-She plays basketball and has many friends.

3-My friend likes to help people, (and/so) she gathered money for charities.

If the combined sentence includes any grammatical or spelling mistakes, deduct (2)marks.

III-Answers vary. (3 marks for each specific detail.)

IV- 1- of

2-at

3-in

(3 marks) for each preposition. (Any other prepositions are not accepted)

V- Coca-Cola is a carbonated drink. It is sold all over the world.

OR Coca-Cola is a carbonated drink, and it is sold all over the world.

(2 marks) for each of the underlined items mentioned above.

VI- a- Deduct 2marks for any grammatical mistake.

b-Deduct 1 mark for any spelling mistake unless it gives a new meaning .

c-Deduct 1mark for any mistake either in capitalization or punctuation.

d-Deduct 2marks for any wrong vocabulary or for a spelling mistake that changes the meaning.

e-Deduct 4marks for any sentence that has nothing to do with the main topic.

f-If the topic sentence has totally different meaning the whole paragraph rates zero.

g-If the paragraph includes any word in Arabic the whole paragraph rates zero.

End of the grading scale

The Examiner: Azza Butrush